

HACKMATAACK 2006

Natale Ghent

author of No Small Thing

I live in Toronto but wish I lived on the east coast near the ocean. I love to travel, especially road trips. I also love to camp and go camping whenever I can. I have a husband and a daughter, plus two “swamp kittens.” We call them that because we saved them from the swamp when they were just tiny kittens. Their names are Prince Buster and General Sterling Price.

I love horses and grew up riding. My sisters and I were wild cowboys.

“I’m thrilled to be nominated for the Hackmataack and hope that I can come to the ceremony!”
